An ode to banks: collaborate and thrive

18 January 2018 | Andrew H. Brown – Chief Risk Officer

With PSD2 now live, there is some anxiety about this mandated move towards "open" banking. Ultimately, the consumer pays for every change but who is to pay for continued development of the infrastructure?

While some people are still fighting to accept APIs as the new reality, for many the dialogue has moved on and they now look to identify partners with whom they can collaborate and thrive. Find out more in our latest blog post by Earthport's CRO, Andrew H. Brown.
